

Area Tasting Panel Chair – North Scotland

CAMRA in Scotland is recruiting for a North of Scotland Tasting Panel Chair.

Scotland currently has three 'local' tasting panels (North of Scotland, Western Scotland and South East & Central Scotland) each with their own Chair, which are overseen by the Regional Tasting Panel Coordinator.

The North of Scotland Tasting Panel Chair will coordinate the local panel – duties will include receiving applications from members interested in joining the local panel, holding regular tasting panel sessions, encouraging panel members to submit their own online tastings, and making nominations for the Champion Beer of Britain competition.

The role guidance for this position is more-or-less the same as for a Tasting Panel Chair.

Any member in the region with experience of Tasting Panels is welcome to apply, although Tasting Panel training can be provided if required.

For further information and to indicate your interest in this role, please contact Stuart McMahon, Scotland Director – rd.scotland@camra.org.uk
